THE SENTINEL AT NEW ORLEANS.

To accommodate the throng from the Northwest who will desire to read their favorite home paper while attending the "World's Exposition," the Sentinel has been placed of sale in New Orleans at George F. Wharton & Bro's, No. 5 Carondelet street, between Canal and Common streets.

OLD PAPERS.

Good conditioned old papers for sale at this office at only 40 cents per hundred.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Two new derricks to be used in raising heavy stone are being erected on the west side of the State house.

During last month $167,202.44 was received by the State Treasurer for all funds, and $308,850.62 was paid out.

Marshall Wright, who recently escaped from the Plainfield Reform School, was arrested yesterday by Sergeant Quigley.

Special religious services are in progress at the Central Avenue Church, Y. M. C. A., and Seventh Street Methodist Church.

A supper will be given by the ladies of the Fletcher Place Church this evening at the residence of F. A. W. Davis, 175 East Merill.

The Governor, Auditor and Treasurer yesterday closed up a contract with Walter Benton, of New York, with reference to the temporary loan bonds.

The usual Tuesday night dance occurred at Professor Gresh's Academy last evening. It was a delightful affair, a large number of young persons being present.

Dr. William Fritch, of Evansville, member of the State Board of Health, will be commissioned by the Governor this morning, his appointment having been confirmed by the Senate.

Colonel Samuel Merrill will conduct the Gospel meeting at Y. M. C. A. rooms to-night. These meetings are increasing in interest, and are held just one hour, commencing at 7:30.

Rev. De Witt Talmage will lecture this evening at Plymouth Church, under the auspices of the Indianapolis Lecture Course. No subject has been announced, but the presence of such a distinguished divine will be greeted by a large audience. By 12 o'clock Monday nearly all the reserves had been taken, and it is safe to say that standing room will be at a premium to-night.

The Hydro-Carburetted Coal Gas Manufacturing Company, of Columbia City, was incorporated yesterday. Capital stock, $50,000.

The physicians who made the post-mortem in the inquest of Mary Oberlin, of 115 Hoebrook street, are still at work, an examination with the microscope being necessary. Their report will probably be made to-day.

The second of the series of lectures inaugurated under the auspices of St. Joseph's Church Trustees' Association will be delivered to-morrow evening at the St. Joseph's Church by Rev. D. J. McMullen, of St. Patrick's Church, Terre Haute. His subject is: "Anti-Catholic Prejudices, and How Catholics May Meet Them for the Benefit of All Concerned." Father McMullen was located for some time in this city, and is well known to the people of Indianapolis.

ANOTHER FORGERY.

Joshua T. Roseberry, a Lafayette Attorney, Tamperers With the Court's Records.

Joshua T. Roseberry, of Lafayette, formerly Deputy Clerk of Tippecanoe County, has been guilty of forgery, by which the State has been the loser. Roseberry only lost his position as Deputy Clerk last November on account of his inattention to business and disposition to gamble. In January he came to the State Auditor with an order of court and other papers, to secure $182.13 belonging to the estate of George Connelly, deceased, whose estate went into the unclaimed decedents' estate fund. Roseberry's supposed order stated that he was the guardian of Merced May Connelly, the only heir of the deceased. In February a similar proceeding was had, and he obtained two warrants, each for $91.06, making a total of $364.23. Last week Mr. Roseberry came in the interests of Stephen O. Brown, who appeared to be the only heir of Olivia Brown, deceased, his order of court referring to the collection of the estate by Attorney General Baldwin in May, 1877. As Mr. Baldwin was not Attorney General at that time the order was sent back for correction, and instead of changing the name of the Attorney General he changed the date, making it January 23, 1881, sending also a letter explaining the mistake. State Auditor Rice thought the matter was not satisfactory and he wrote to the Tippecanoe County Clerk, who reported that there was no such heir, and recommending that the claim be not paid. Examination also proved that the Connelly matter was a forgery. Deputy Clerk Studebaker came to the city Monday, and it was discovered that Roseberry had forged the names of Mr. Studebaker and Clerk Mitchell. Arrangements were made for Roseberry's arrest, and the Lafayette authorities were notified to hold him for forgery, but the last that was learned was that Roseberry was rapidly putting all the intervening space from here to Canada between himself and the officers. Captain Colbert, of this city, was detailed to follow him and secure his arrest if possible. Roseberry is a man of family, and stood well in Lafayette.

THE MILITARY CARNIVAL.

The First Night's Festivities Draw a Large Crowd.

The military carnival opened last night at the new Armory, on College avenue, with a large attendance. The building was handsomely and elaborately decorated with flags, bunting and everything in fact that would tend to make it attractive. There were on exhibition a large number of war relics commemorating the Revolution, the Mexican War and the late Rebellion; also a large number of curiosities, natural history specimens, including mounted birds, butterflies and other insects.

The entertainment for the evening consisted of a grand concert by the Indianapolis Lyra Society, which rendered a number of popular selections from their more recent programmes as rendered in the hall. The proceeds of the carnival are to be divided equally among the Indianapolis Orphans' Home, the Zouaves and the Light Infantry. The following is the programme for this evening:

Grand March by Battalion.
Indianapolis Light Infantry—Exhibition drill.
Tambour—Joan of Arc Battle Prayer.
Emmet Guards—Exhibition drill.
Indianapolis Light Artillery—Exhibition drill.
Tambour—The Attack.
Richardson Zouaves—Drill.
T. Zouaves—After the Battle.

THE COLORED FACTOR.

Colonel W. G. Robinson Has Some Views Upon the Political Future of the Colored People.

Though colored Will G. Robinson is a man of property, something of a scholar, qualified to teach in the Public Schools, and altogether a citizen of large information. Politically Mr. Robinson is a Democrat, and he has been that way since the party turned to with Sumner, Julian and Giddens, and voted for the great and good Horace Greely. He may, therefore, be regarded as a pioneer of the political exodus destined to swell the Democratic majority as soon as the colored people learn that Republican defeat fails to affect their constitutional rights.

Meeting this gentleman in the gallery of the Legislature lately, when he was watching with interest the progress of Dr. Thompson's civil rights bill, a Sentinel reporter engaged him in conversation.

Reporter—"Are the colored people completely reconciled to the present political order of things?"

Robinson—"After the public mind has time to realize that a movement is indeed President it may safely be written that apprehension on the part of the colored people has subsided. Once quiet, they will reflect on the monstrous falsehoods told them by the Republicans, and on which they have acted. This course is a revelation of people never will forgive the Republican party for having deceived them. The restless and feverish attitude evidenced the first few weeks after the report of Mr. Cleveland's election proved that the negroes had fears. A few feared a return to slavery and the great bulk feared that they would be deprived of some of their constitutional rights. In the popular tranquility and progress destined to characterize the administration of Mr. Cleveland they will discover that those fears were groundless; that their intelligence had been insulted. Instead of having their rights disregarded, their legal privileges will be enlarged and where they expected pain they will find pleasure. The Democratic party will give them something for gratitude rather than resentment. Roberto Democratic colored men have been regarded as enemies of the race—apostates—but that time has passed. The influence of Democratic success will be nowhere greater than in developing the colored citizen."

Rep—"Then, I infer that you think the colored vote will divide with the proper encouragement from the Democrats?"

"The colored man's natural place is with the Democratic party, and he will ask no more than evidence of good-will. He will ask office. He would be unworthy of American citizenship if he did not."

"What is the colored vote of Indiana?"

"About 13,000."

"Then they hold the balance of power."

"Yes, they hold the balance of power in New York, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. "What influence do you think the passage of Dr. Thompson's Civil Rights bill would have on the colored vote of Indiana?"

"My word for it, it would swell the Democratic majority to at least 15,000."

The glorious privilege of being a negro always trade life a season of such vast delight to Alfred Harrison that his development as a statesman was a sore surprise to his friends. "The mere consciousness," he said, "of being a colored person, was a source of the most exquisite pleasure."

He says that the spirit of the age, the Christian sentiment abroad in the land, all conduce to the advancement of his people. A Democratic victory is especially gratifying to him in that it will demonstrate to his people that no political party is disposed to combat the negro's advancement.

He regarded Dr. Thompson's Civil Rights bill with anxiety, and for the reason that it would go far towards assuring his people that the Democratic party is not unfriendly to the black man.

THE RAILWAYS.

Earnings of the Big Four—General Freight Agent Hibbard Says the St. Louis East-bound Pool Must Go.

East-bound freight traffic is heavy. A large amount of grain billed for lake points is passing through this city from the West.

Ed Fishback, Traveling Agent of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba, with headquarters in this city, has returned from Cincinnati.

It is quite probable that the Wabash folks will this spring place several hundred tons of new steel rails on the I. P. and C., distributing them at points along the road where most needed. This line is not by any means in splendid physical shape at any time, and it is in deplorable condition as many of its enemies would have the public believe. Had it fallen into the hands of the original owners they would have expended nearly $20,000 in improvements and operated almost entirely for local business.

Horace U. Hibbard, General Freight Agent of the Vandavia, is thoroughly disgusted with pools and makes no effort to conceal the fact. In conversation with a reporter recently on the subject of pools he said he had had enough of them. Mr. Hibbard held the opinion that the St. Louis and all other pools in the country are on the verge of dissolution. The Vandavia is as yet the only road that has signified its intention of withdrawing from the pool, but it is understood that others will follow. Mr. Hibbard says he is getting tired of telling parties who have from 100 to 200 cars of freight to ship east that he can't take it because the Vandavia is ahead of its percentage. Probably no road out of St. Louis is better prepared to break loose from the pool than the Vandavia. The through business of the road has greatly increased and a large amount of freight has necessarily been refused. It is not probable, however, that rates will be cut when the pool breaks. They are now very reasonable, and it is thought that no line out of St. Louis can very well afford to engage in a costly rate war.

A RECEIVER WANTED.

Henry H. Porter, a Chicago capitalist, has filed a petition in the Federal Court asking that a Receiver be appointed for the Chicago and Great Southern Railroad, and that John C. New, trustee for the bondholders, and other defendants be compelled to come into court and make answer to the complaint filed. It is alleged that in November, 1881, the northern division of the road from Brazil, Ind., to the connection with the L. N. A. and C. near Chicago, was mortgaged to secure the payment of $1,200,000 in bonds to John C. New, trustee for the bondholders, and that since then both the interest and the principal have been defaulted; also, that in January Mr. New, as he was authorized to do, instituted foreclosure proceedings in the Newton County Court, but afterward dismissed them. The plaintiff, who now holds a majority of the bonds, asked that he be allowed to prosecute the foreclosure proceedings, inasmuch as Mr. New has failed to do so, and that a Receiver be appointed, until a sale of the property shall be ordered by the court.

HIG FOUR EARNINGS.

A Novel Contest.

At the Wigwam Rink this afternoon Prince Wells, champion bicyclist of the South, will give an exhibition of fancy bicycle riding, and to-night and to-morrow night a speed contest between the champion and Walter Dean, the champion roller skater of the city, will take place. This evening the distance for the race will be two miles, and on Thursday night the distance will be three miles. This will be an exhibition worth witnessing, and all should avail themselves of this opportunity.

State Health Statistics.

The State Board of Health has just prepared table No. 3 showing the number of deaths and the causes thereof for the year ending September 30. This table shows that 1,016 persons died of pneumonia, 539 of these being males and 477 females. Of bronchitis 265 persons died, 149 males and 116 females.

There will be a public exhibition of Powell's Automatic Fire Escape at Board of Trade Building to-day at noon. Its simplicity and safety will demonstrate themselves, and must be appreciated on sight. The owner wants to sell the right to manufacture and use in this State.
